- Code of Alabama 1975 § 11-65-1 through 11-65-47 (Birmingham)

Historical Context

Established by a legislative act in 1971, Mobile County’s racing commission is by far the oldest in the state. Greyhound racing began in Mobile on August 6, 1973. In 1983, Greene and Macon Counties also established racing commissions. The Alabama Legislature enacted legislation in 1984 that permitted Jefferson County to hold a referendum on authorizing local horse and greyhound racing. Following a favorable election, the Birmingham Racing Commission was incorporated, pursuant to Alabama Act 84-131. Authorizing legislation for “Class 1 Municipalities” (Birmingham) was later codified in Title 11, Chapter 65 of the Code of Alabama 1975. Since the Birmingham Race Track abolished live horse racing in 1992, the tracks have run only dog races. Greene County’s racing commission abolished live dog racing in 1998 and now conducts only simulcast racing.

Agency Organization

Alabama presently has four racing commissions, located in the City of Birmingham, Greene County, Macon County, and Mobile County. This RDA is a revision of the one approved for Birmingham’s racing commission (the pilot project) in October 1999. Although the four racing commissions are organized differently and operate under unique local laws, their duties are substantially the same. Therefore, functions and subfunctions originally identified for Birmingham’s commission generally also fit the other three. Differences will be noted where they do exist. Records treated in this RDA’s analysis and disposition sections are common to all four commissions.

Birmingham and Macon County have similar methods of selecting their commissions. In Birmingham, the mayor, the county commission chairman, the county’s representatives in the House and Senate, and the lieutenant governor each appoint one member. The commissioners serve four-year terms. Macon County’s three commissioners, who serve six-year terms, are likewise chosen by the county commission and the House and Senate representatives. In Greene County, the three commission members are appointed by its legislative delegation. Each member serves a term of three years. In Mobile County, the legislative delegation elects one member and the other two are chosen, respectively, by the Mobile County Foundation for Public Higher Education and by a majority vote of the county’s municipalities. In all four cases, racing commissioners must be residents of the county for at least five years prior to appointment, as well as qualified electors. They must be bonded, and none may be a convicted felon or “an officer, director, or employee of any [race track] licensee” (Alabama Act 83-575, p. 884).

Birmingham’s racing commission elects a chairman and vice-chairman from its members and appoints as employees an executive secretary and a treasurer. Originally, the city’s finance director filled the treasurer’s position, but the chairman may now serve in this capacity (Code of Alabama 1975 § 11-65-9). The chairman also presides over commission meetings and may call special meetings in addition to the two required per month. To address any business, the commission must have a quorum of three members present. If the chairman is temporarily absent or the chair is vacant, the vice-chairman performs those duties temporarily or succeeds as acting chairman until the vacancy is filled. The Birmingham Racing Commission’s executive secretary serves as its administrative head, carrying out its duties, rules, and regulations as prescribed by law. Mobile County’s commission also elects a chairman, vice-chairman, and secretary. The Macon and Greene County racing commissions elect no officers, but each appoints its county’s treasurer as ex officio treasurer of the commission. The treasurers “collect all the license fees, taxes, and monies” their commissions receive, depositing or investing them as directed in their authorizing legislation. They also supervise and audit “the operation of the pari-mutuel racing pools” in their respective counties. Birmingham’s and Mobile County’s commissions employ certified public accountants to conduct this task.

Agency Function and Subfunctions

The mandated function of the Alabama Racing Commissions in Alabama is to maintain the integrity of greyhound racing by upholding the State of Alabama’s legislative requirements, as well as rules and regulations established by the commissions themselves. The Code of Alabama 1975 § 11-65-10 mandates the Birmingham Racing Commission to supervise operation of the Birmingham Race Track, which is not a government agency. An association of track operators, known as the Association, is the entity licensed to conduct business at the track. Separate legislative acts empower Mobile and Macon County’s racing commissions to supervise their tracks and pari-mutuel betting in their counties. As such, it is one of the agencies responsible for performing the Regulation function of Alabama government as described in the “Functional Analysis of Alabama Government.”

In the performance of its mandated function, the Alabama Racing Commissions may engage in the following subfunctions:

- Promulgating Rules and Regulations. The commissions are responsible for adopting bylaws to regulate their own business affairs, as well as racing and wagering activities at the tracks. The Birmingham Racing Commission meets each October to approve the dates for the two main classifications of greyhound racing: matinees (daytime races) and evening performances (nighttime races). The race track’s director submits proposed race dates to the commission for consideration. Greene, Macon, and Mobile County’s commissions likewise meet annually and are charged with “promulgating uniform rules and regulations governing the holding, conducting, and operating of all race meetings and races held in the county” (Alabama Act 83-575, p. 886). As befits their role as regulatory bodies, Alabama’s racing commissions enforce the rules and regulations set forth in their authorizing legislation.

- Licensing. Code of Alabama 1975 § 11-65-18 through -20 establishes the procedure for obtaining licenses at the Birmingham Race Track. The Association is the entity licensed by the commission to operate the track. It is responsible for reporting stockholder and wagering information to the commission; allowing commission-sanctioned audits; making purses (prize money) available to kennel owners; ensuring that the track is safe and secure for employees, visitors, and other track personnel; and guarding against corruption. Although track personnel are not commission employees, anyone working at the track must be licensed by the commission. Each potential licensee submits an application to the track personnel office for approval by the track director. Once the track director approves an application, he sends it to the commission for review. The commission issues several types of licenses, e.g.: stewards/judges, chief veterinarians, evidence technicians, permit clerks, compliance monitors, and simulcast officials.

Similarly, in Mobile and Macon Counties, track personnel such as gatekeepers, starters, announcers, officials, dog owners, grooms, veterinarians, wagering machine attendants, and vendors of racing forms must all be licensed. The commissions convene each year “to consider and act upon all permits or licenses applied for” (Alabama Act 86-545, p. 1086). All three commissions have the power to revoke licenses if they find violations of the rules and regulations.

Greene County’s commission is not issuing licenses at this time because the track is not conducting live dog racing. However, if the commission should re-open the track to provide this service, licenses may be issued.

- Monitoring Race Track Operations. The Code of Alabama 1975 § 11-65-10(10) authorizes the Birmingham Racing Commission to investigate and have free access to the office, track, facilities, records, books, or other place(s) of business of all track operators. Investigations at the track may occur after allegations of misconduct by the Association, its employees, or track patrons. If a complaint is filed by a patron or staff member, it is forwarded to the racing inspector’s office. The inspector may conduct an investigation to determine whether probable cause exists for the commission to take disciplinary action. Instances of alleged wrongdoing may include tampering with dogs, soliciting business on Association grounds, or making types of wagers not permitted under the commission’s rules on pari-mutuel betting. The commission has an auditor, veterinarians, and track judges to ensure that track operations are run according to the guidelines in the Code. The legislative acts governing dog racing in Greene, Macon, and Mobile Counties also stipulate various categories of offenses that relate to racing, wagering, and other race track operations. Those counties’ commissions employ similar procedures for monitoring and investigating such offenses. (See Alabama Acts 83-575 [Macon County], 2431 [1971], and 86-545 [Mobile County].)
Conducting Hearings. Each of the commission’s licensees has a duty to uphold its regulations. In Birmingham, suspected violations of greyhound racing rules are first reported to track judges. If the judges find an owner or employee guilty of a violation, they may impose any punishment deemed proper under the commission’s rules, such as suspending the person for no more than 60 days or imposing a fine of up to $1,000. Offenders who do not accept the judges’ ruling may appeal to the commission for a hearing (see Birmingham Racing Commission, Rules Regulating Pari-mutuel Greyhound Racing, Section XIII). At the hearing, the complainant and other witnesses may be examined; then the commission decides whether relief or additional disciplinary action should be taken. The Mobile and Macon County racing commissions may, under their legislation, also revoke licenses, impose fines, and conduct hearings on violations of racing or wagering rules. Mobile’s legislation cites its commission’s “power to summon witnesses before its meetings . . . and to require testimony on any issue before it” (Alabama Act 86-545, p. 1087). Macon County’s notes that “any aggrieved person [accused of violating racing regulations] shall be entitled to a hearing before the Racing Commission” (Alabama Act 83-575, p. 888).

Administering Internal Operations. A significant portion of the Alabama Racing Commissions’ work includes general administrative, financial, and personnel activities performed to support the programmatic areas of the agency including:

Managing the Agency: Activities include internal office management activities common to most government agencies such as corresponding and communicating, scheduling, meeting, documenting policy and procedures, reporting, litigating, legislating (drafting, tracking), publicizing and providing information, managing records, and managing information systems and technology.

Managing Finances: Activities include budgeting (preparing and reviewing budget package, submitting the budget package to the Department of Finance, documenting amendments and performance of the budget); purchasing (requisitioning and purchasing supplies and equipment, receipting and invoicing for goods, and authorizing payment for products received); accounting for the expenditure, encumbrance, disbursement, and reconciliation of funds within the agency’s budget through a uniform system of accounting and reporting; authorizing travel; contracting with companies or individuals; bidding for products and services; and assisting in the audit process.

Managing Human Resources: Activities include recruiting and hiring eligible individuals to fill positions within the agency; providing compensation to employees; providing benefits to employees such as leave, health insurance, unemployment compensation, worker’s compensation, injury compensation, retirement, and death benefits; supervising employees by evaluating performance, granting leave, and monitoring the accumulation of leave; training and providing continuing education for employees; investigating and disciplining.
Managing Properties, Facilities, and Resources: Activities include inventorying and accounting for non-consumable property and reporting property information to the appropriate authority; leasing and/or renting offices or facilities; providing security for property managed by the agency; insuring property; and assigning, inspecting and maintaining agency property.
Records Appraisal of Alabama Racing Commissions

The following is a discussion of the three major categories of records created and/or maintained by the Racing Commissions: Temporary Records, Permanent Records, and Records No Longer Created.

Temporary Records

Temporary records should be held for what is considered their active life and be disposed of once all fiscal, legal, and administrative requirements have been met. Some of the temporary records created by the board are discussed below:

- Licensing Files. These records are submitted by commission license applicants to document that they have met all mandated requirements. Most licenses are annually renewed. This revision updates and standardizes RDA retention requirements for licensing files in accordance with other regulatory agency licensing files to five years. Because racing commissions do not receive notification upon termination of employment, the previous retention requirement of “5 years after termination of employment” was unworkable.

Permanent Records

The Archives Division recommends the following records as permanent:

Promulgating Rules and Regulations

- Commission Meeting/Hearing Minutes, Agendas, and Packets. Under the Code of Alabama 1975 and their authorizing legislation, racing commissions are charged with developing and implementing rules and regulations on greyhound racing and pari-mutuel wagering. These records are minutes documenting meetings and hearings held by the commission. They include agendas and packet materials reviewed by commission members prior to meetings. As primary source materials, these records are essential to document the evolution of commission policies and procedures and the fulfillment of mandated responsibilities toward race tracks under their jurisdiction.

- Administrative Correspondence. These records include correspondence and related files of commission members, racetrack officials, or administrative staff regarding commission policies or procedures, as well as broad questions of administration. Administrative correspondence provides essential documentation of the implementation of commission policies and procedures.

- Greyhound Rule Books. Greyhound rule books explain rules and regulations that authorize and permit greyhound racing by operators at the race tracks. They provide detailed information that defines and regulates greyhound racing and pari-mutuel betting, detail the obligations of everyone licensed at the track, and describe the kinds of services Rule books provide essential documentation of racetrack operations and are the basis for regulatory decisions made by the commissions.

Licensing

Monitoring Race Track Operations

Permanent records documenting this subfunction are found in Commission Meeting/Hearing Minutes as described under Promulgating Rules and Regulations.

Alabama Racing Commissions Records Disposition Authority

This Records Disposition Authority (RDA) is issued by the Local Government Records Commission under the authority granted by the Code of Alabama 1975 § 41-13-5 and 41-13-22 through 24. It was compiled by the Archives Division, Alabama Department of Archives and History (ADAH), which serves as the Commission’s staff, in cooperation with representatives of the Alabama Racing Commissions. The RDA lists records created and maintained by the Agency in carrying out their mandated functions and activities. It establishes minimum retention periods and disposition instructions for those records and provides the legal authority for the Agency to implement records destruction.

Alabama law requires public officials to create and maintain records that document the business of their offices. These records must be protected from “mutilation, loss, or destruction,” so that they may be transferred to an official’s successor in office and may be made available to members of the public. Records also must be kept in accordance with auditing standards approved by the Examiners of Public Accounts (Code of Alabama 1975 § 36-12-2, 36-12-4, and 41-5-23). For assistance in implementing this RDA, or for advice on records disposition or other records management concerns, contact the agency records manager or ADAH Archives Division at (334) 242-4452.

Explanation of Records Requirements

The RDA shall govern the disposition of all records, regardless of format, created by the agency from creation to dissolution. Please contact the staff of the Department of Archives and History before destroying any records created prior to 1940.

This RDA supersedes any previous records disposition schedules or RDAs governing the retention of the records created by the Agency. Copies of superseded schedules are no longer valid and may not be used for records disposition.

The RDA establishes retention and disposition instructions for records listed below, regardless of the medium on which those records may be kept. Electronic mail, for example, is a communications tool that may record permanent or temporary information. As for records in any other format, the retention periods for e-mail records are governed by the requirements of the subfunctions to which the records belong.

Certain other record-like materials are not actually regarded as official records and may be disposed of under this RDA. Such materials include (1) duplicate record copies that do not require official action, so long as the creating office maintains the original record for the period required; (2) catalogs, trade journals, and other publications received that require no action and do not document agency activities; (3) stocks of blank stationery, blank forms, or other surplus materials that are not subject to audit and have become obsolete; (4) transitory records, which are temporary records created for short-term, internal purposes, may include, but are not limited to, telephone call-back messages, drafts of ordinary documents not needed for their evidential value, copies of material sent for information purposes but not needed by the receiving office for future business, and internal communications about social activities; (5) honorary materials, plaques, awards, presentations, certificates, and gifts received or maintained by the agency staff. They may be disposed of without documentation of destruction.

Records Disposition Requirements

This section of the RDA is arranged by subfunctions of the Agency and lists the groups of records created and/or maintained as a result of activities and transactions performed in carrying out these subfunctions. The Agency may submit requests to revise specific records disposition requirements to the State Records Commission for consideration at its regular biannual meetings.

Requirement and Recommendations for Implementing the Records Disposition Authority (RDA)

Requirement

Under the Code of Alabama 1975 § 41-13-23, “no county, municipal, or other local government official, shall cause any . . . record to be destroyed or otherwise disposed of without first obtaining the approval of the local government records commission.” This RDA constitutes authorization by the Local Government Records Commission to dispose of records as stipulated, with the condition that the responsible official must submit a Local Government Records Destruction Notice to the ADAH Government Records Division to document the destruction. The ADAH, which serves as the commission’s staff, retains local records destruction documentation as a permanent record.

Recommendations

In addition, the Agency should make every effort to establish and maintain a quality record-keeping program by conducting the following activities:

The Agency should designate a staff member in a managerial position as its records liaison/records manager, who is responsible for: ensuring the development of quality record keeping systems that meet the business and legal needs of the agency, coordinating the transfer and destruction of records, ensuring that permanent records held on alternative storage media (such as microforms and digital imaging systems) are maintained in compliance with national and state standards, and ensuring the regular implementation of the agency’s approved RDA.

Permanent records in the Agency’s custody should be maintained under proper intellectual control and in an environment that will ensure their physical order and preservation.

Destruction of temporary records, as authorized in this RDA, should occur agency-wide on a regular basis – for example, after the successful completion of an audit, at the end of an administration, or at the end of a fiscal year. Despite the RDA’s provisions, no record should be destroyed that is necessary to comply with requirements of the Open Meetings Act, audit requirements, or any legal notice or subpoena.

The agency should maintain full documentation of any computerized record-keeping system it employs. It should develop procedures for: (1) backing up all permanent records held in electronic format; (2) storing a back-up copy off-site; and (3) migrating all permanent records when the system is upgraded or replaced. If the agency chooses to maintain permanent records solely in electronic format, it is committed to funding any system upgrades and migration strategies necessary to ensure the records’ permanent preservation and accessibility.

Electronic mail contains permanent, temporary, or transitory record information. Although e-mail records can be printed out, filed, and retained according to the RDA’s requirements, the office should preferably employ an electronic records management system capable of sorting email into folders and archiving messages having long-term value.

The staff of the Local Government Records Commission or the Examiners of Public Accounts may examine the condition of the permanent records maintained in the custody of the Agency and inspect records destruction documentation. Agency records managers and/or the ADAH archivists are available to instruct the staff in RDA implementation and otherwise assist the Agency in implementing its records management program.

The Local Government Records Commission adopted this records disposition authority on April 20, 2022.
