Join us for an engaging professional development session focused on Alabama's rich history in a global context. This workshop will equip grades 4-12 educators with strategies for using primary sources to highlight Alabama's pivotal role in world events: from colonial trade to the world wars, as well as contributions to global industries like agriculture, space exploration, and the arts. Through interactive lessons and hands-on activities, you will learn how to bring Alabama's history to life in the classroom while fostering critical thinking and historical inquiry. Walk away with practical tools to create dynamic, inquiry-based lessons that connect Alabama's past with the wider world stage! You will need to bring your own operable device, such as a laptop or Chromebook, as you will be required to use it for full participation.
